

Notes

Feed it forward - nonprofit in dc

- Fight food insecurity
- Helping youth homeless community in general
- Food drives
- School drive, school supplies
- Toy drives during holiday season
- Give free toys
- Rebranding
- Financial
- https://docs.google.com/presentation/d/1d9XHolQfl-bJz_YUx62ewC66duc_2XUzawinud_kbmQo/edit#slide=id.g7a3497ab7d_0_1
- 6 mini teams
- 3 pairs a semester
- Website design then moved to mobile version

- What challenges was the client facing? Where did they need our help?
 - Rebranding
 - They were facing a lot of difficulties with covid
 - Need hands to help them revitalize
- How did DCivitas strategize to solve the problem?
 - Get understanding of their goals
 - Maintain solid communication
 - Get feedback throughout semester
 - Initial goals in beginning of each semester
- What solution did we provide to the client?
 - Tangible - final website
 - Future grant research and corporate sponsorship research
 - Made packets - how to reach out
 - Visual identity - deliverable and reports
 - Documents - how to do grant research and write grant applications
 - Identity - design logo
 - New visual identity guidelines for social media
- What was the impact of our solution?
 - Waiting with time to see how they continue to use the tools over the past year
 - Final presentation - they were appreciative - extra help
 - Teaching how to maintain website - wix - keep making it manageable
 - Founded in 2015 - when covid hit, nonprofit boiled down to 2 co founders
- Has the client recognized long-term benefits as a result of DCivitas' work?
 - Has long-term benefits - only been a few months but strategy is about long-term
 - Won't be able to see until there are a couple years in
 - Going strong with instagram
 - Rebranded instagram
 - Raise money and do charitable work

- Raise a lot of money
- Different personalities with different nonprofits
- Maintain professionalism
- Sent cookies
- For second chance

Each team is split into many teams

Outline

- Overview of Feed It Forward:
 - Grass-root level movement
 - Started by a group of friends that wanted to bring friends together give back to the community
 - Aims to host an event once a month
 - Donates food, toys, clothing, etc.
 - 3 person team working pro-bono
 - Functions more as an event net but would like to become more a more permanent organization
- Direct impact and statistics:
 - Made over 8000 bagged lunches for the homeless
 - Assembled over a thousand toiletry kits for the homeless
 - Raised enough money for over 200 backpacks filled with school supplies for students in 3 different DC schools
 - Halloween costume drive that collected over 300 costumes for underprivileged children
 - Thanksgiving dinner where chefs prepared food for over 400 people in the Southeast DC community
- Problems identified:
 - Feed It Forward DC would like to expand their organization by building a board of directors to help make their nonprofit more permanent and less reliant on other partnerships.
 - Feed It Forward DC doesn't have a consistent stream of funding but rather supports itself from different sponsors based on specific events.
 - Feed It Forward DC currently uses a Tumblr site as their website but want a more professional one. They would also like to further increase their presence in the DC community.
- Solution:
 - Help Feed It Forward DC create a presentation pitch for interested board members outlining their responsibilities.
 - Create a guidebook to help with grant writing and the ins and outs of building long term corporate partners. Feed It Forward DC would like us to help lay the foundation for their expansion.
 - Help Feed It Forward DC transition to a more professional website. Work with them to innovate more marketing strategy to expand volunteer and donor base.

- Impact/results
 -